The Bartimaeus Project

This week's session is on
Tuesday, 15th March at 7:30pm

Fr Tony will be speaking in St Theresa's on the subject:

The Word of God:

What is the Bible and how did we get it?

He will explore the origins, formation, transmission and interpretation of the texts that make up the Bible as we have it today. Please do come along.

Fr Tony will follow this up on Tuesday 22nd March with a talk entitled, "The Bible in 40 minutes: Rich diversity and some unifying themes".

Each session of the Bartimaeus project is led by a speaker in their parish hall or church, and streamed to other participating parishes, where there will be a chance to discuss the talk afterwards.

People can also participate from home via Zoom.

There is a chance for discussion (and refreshments) after each talk, and to come back to the speaker with and reflections or questions.

More information and online joining details can be found at: bartimaeus-project.org

13th March 2022: Second Sunday of Lent Sunday: Year C, Weekdays: 2nd Week of Lent

Fr Tony Writes:

"Jesus took with him Peter and John and James and went up the mountain to pray."

I am writing this while in the Lake District. There are many things to do here, but for me and for the people I come with, the main objective is to go up mountains. The climb is at times arduous. Sometimes, when about halfway up, with still quite a lot of climbing to do, I question why I am doing this! But there is an exhilaration when we reach the top. Sometimes we are even rewarded with a great view!

The next bit is in some ways more challenging – coming back down. Often this involves descending rough terrain, with our limbs already tired from the climb. But when we reach the bottom, the feeling is usually one of satisfaction, and it is generally the good bits that stick in the mind! It is those memories which draw us back time after time to the mountains.

Lent can be like this. We start with good intentions and maybe some enthusiasm. Perhaps we find it arduous at times, but if we keep going when we come to Easter we have a sense of achievement, a readiness for the feast, and maybe a clearer view on the struggles and challenges of life.

Of course, one difference between climbing a mountain and Lent is that Easter will come whether we make any effort or not! But while it may arrive in the calendar, will we be ready for it?

P.S. There is a bar of Kendal Mint Cake for the first person to correctly tell me which mountain I am on in the picture.
